A R T B Y A N N A W E R T H

I am a woman, a mother, an artist and a writer. I find my inspiration in filling colours on canvas with stories and filling stories in screenplays with colours.

My paintings are filled with the sounds of Mozart, the smell of sandalwood and the taste of the sea. The stories that are told in a feminine way. Soft and warm in everything - from colors to curves. Paintings that care in their simplicity the comfort of a burning fireplace into the most austere space. Tenderness framed in modern style and abstract forms, spiced with a touch of youthful mischief.

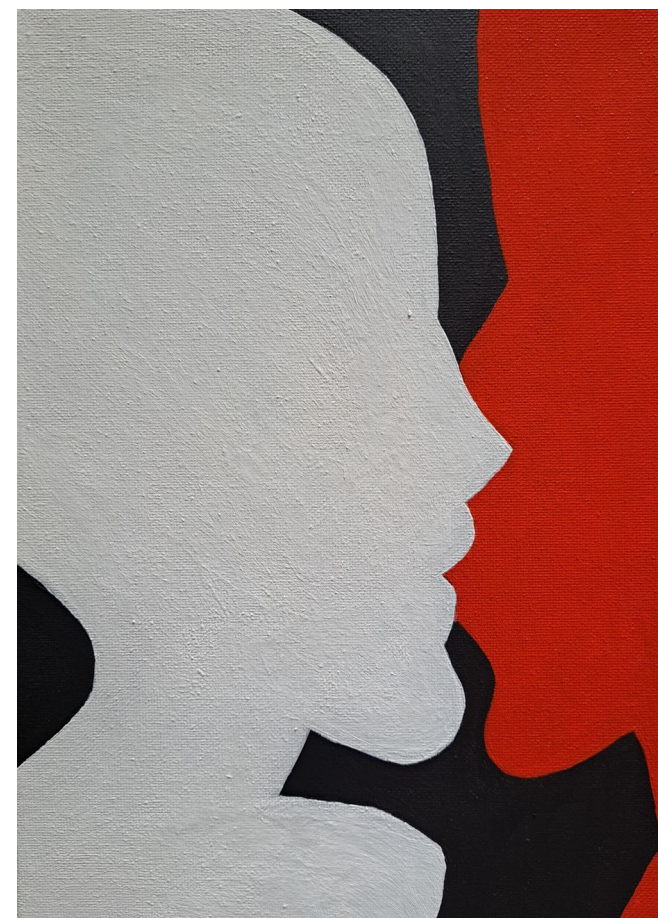

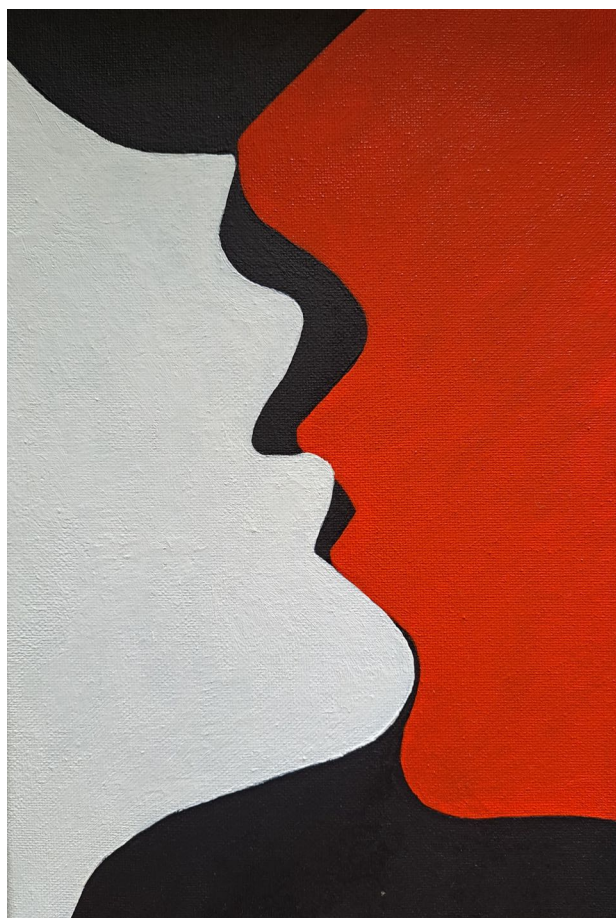

Having no strong name diploma in my pocket, I earned the honor to call myself an artist with a long path of hard work and persistent study. Today, I am based in Fethiye (Turkey), but my works adorn interiors in Cyprus, UK, France, UAE and Russia.

I rarely work with commission artworks, although I am always glad for the opportunity to collaborate and discuss bright creative ideas.

I am Anna Werth, and I am happy to present you my art...

My art is obsessed with the challenge of minimalism.

To tell the story in a few lines, to build emotion in a couple of colors.

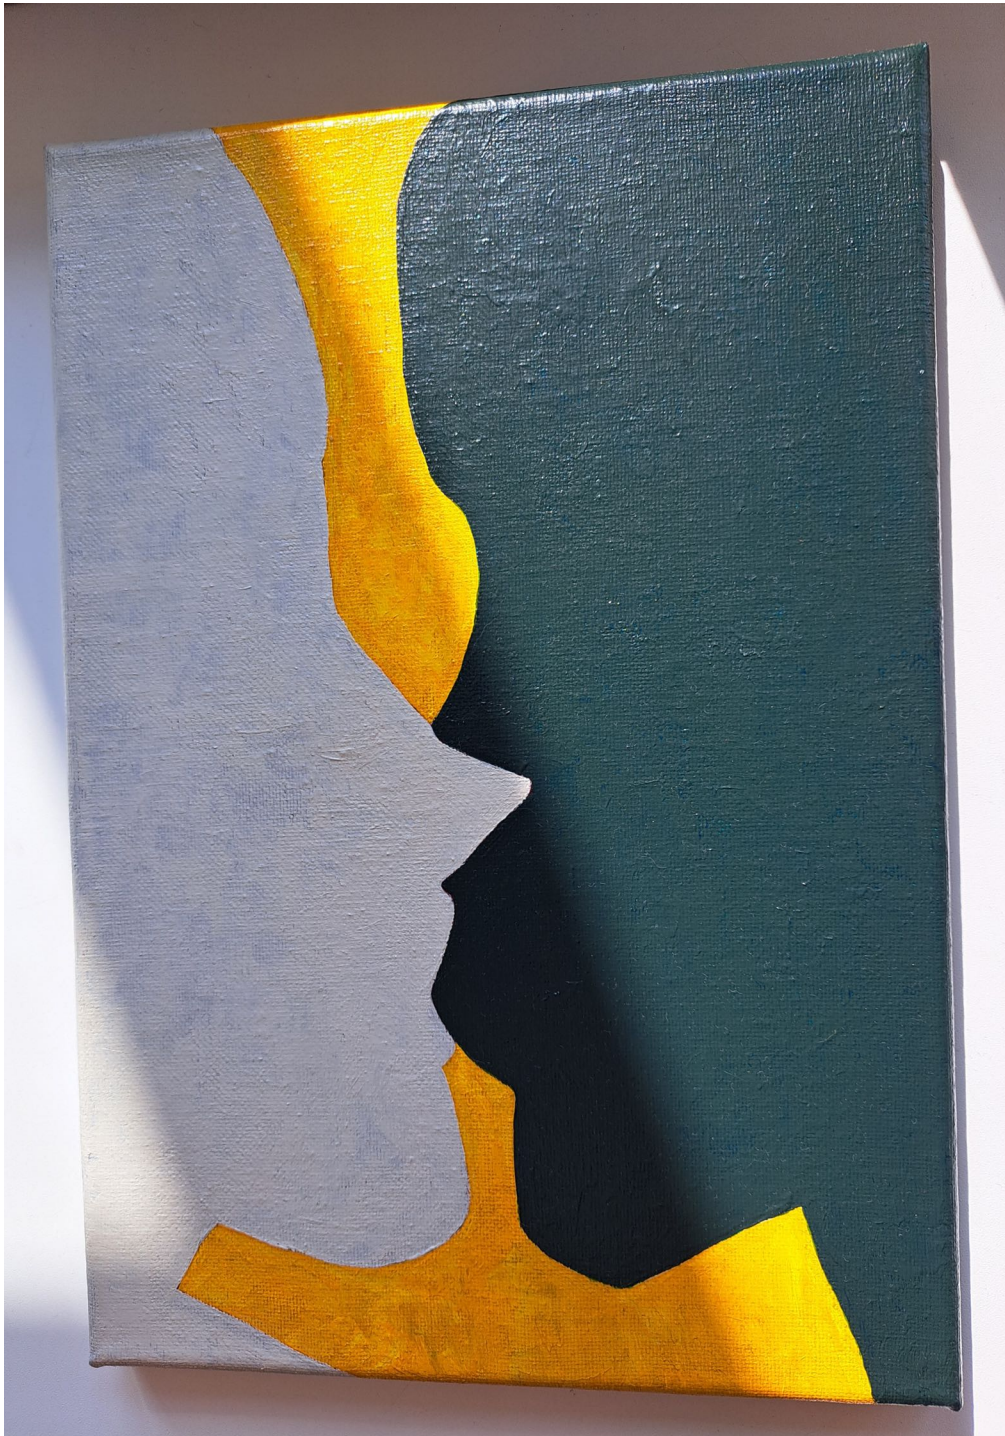

A few lines, a couple of colors...

Mighty Gioacchino Rossini had always described his music as "A little science and a little heart. That's it!"

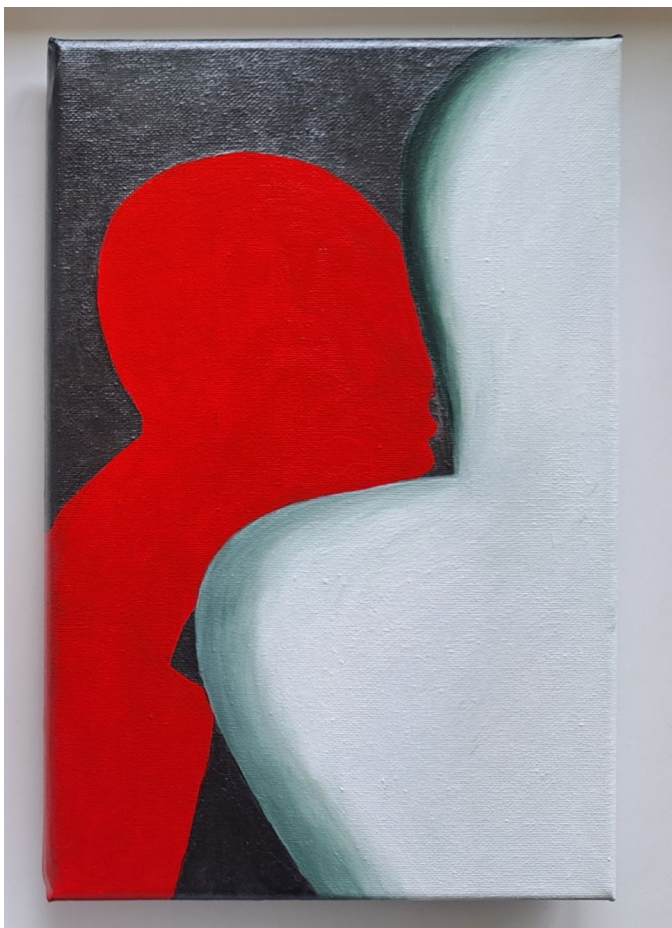

And that is how I dare to describe my work.
